Having for a long time suffered from the effects of a hereditary blood trouble, and after resorting to medical skill and other remedies without benefit, tried "A. B. C. Alterative," and it has been entirely restored, and it affords me pleasure to attest its virtues. It is certainly a very great tonic and alterative, and I recommend any suffering from blood trouble, to try it.

Growth of the Churches.

The Independent has gathered some valuable and interesting statistics showing the strength of the various Christian churches in the United States and their growth during the past year. In some cases the figures are estimates, but our contemporary believes that on the whole the results "very closely approximate the truth."
From these it appears that there are in the United States 151,261 churches of all denominations, 103,300 ministers and nearly 22,000,000 members. During the year there has been an increase of 8,500 churches, nearly 4,900 ministers and nearly 1,000,000 members.

The most numerous denomination is the Roman Catholics, with 7,500 churches, 8,800 priests, etc., and 8,277,000 population, of whom 4,676,000 are estimated to be communicants.

Then come the Methodists with, in round numbers, 4,880,000 communicants; Baptists, 4,292,000; Presbyterians, 1,229,000; Lutherans, 1,086,000; Congregationalists, 491,000, and Episcopalians, 480,000.

The increase in the Catholic population during the year was 421,700. The estimated gain in Catholic communicants was over 238,000.

The growth of Protestant membership was 658,000. The Methodists gained more than 200,000, the Baptists more than 213,000, the Lutherans 98,000, the Presbyterians nearly 49,000, the Congregationalists more than 16,000 and the Episcopalians about 9,500.

The accession of new members was even larger than these figures, since in every denomination there were deaths of members whose places were filled by new acquisitions. The number of deaths in the Methodist Episcopal body, for example, was reported at 28,300.

This is a highly satisfactory and encouraging showing to all who have the welfare of the church at heart. A gain of nearly 1,100,000 in membership in one year, with a corresponding increase in the number of churches and ministers, indicates that Christianity is marching on with no uncertain stride. As a most overwhelming refutation of the assertions we hear now and then from various quarters that Christianity is losing its hold upon our people and that our churches are declining.—N. Y. Herald.

The Sentence of Jesus.

The following is a correct transcript of the most memorable judicial sentence which has ever been uttered by human lips in the annals of the world. This curious document was discovered in A. D. 1280, in the city Aquila in the kingdom of Naples, in the course of a search made for the discovery of Roman antiquities, and it remained there until it was found by the commissaries of art in the French army of Italy. Up to the time of the campaign in Southern Italy it was preserved in the society of the Carthusians, near Naples, where it was kept in a box of ebony. Since then the relic has been kept in the Chapel of Capri. The Carthusians obtained by petition leave that the plate might be kept by them as an acknowledgment of the sacrifices they had made for the French army. The French translation was made literally by members of the commission of art. Depon here a facsimile of the plate engraved, which was bought by Lord Howard on the sale of his cabinet for 2890 francs.

There seems to be no historical doubt, says the Kölnische Zeitung, as to the authenticity of this document, and it is obvious to remark that the reasons of the sentence correspond exactly with those recorded in the gospels. The sentence itself runs as follows:

"Sentence pronounced by Pontius Pilate, Intendant of lower Galilee, that Jesus of Nazareth shall suffer death by the cross. In the seventeenth year of the reign of the Emperor Tiberius, and on the 25th of March, in the most holy city of Jerusalem, during the pontificate of Annas and Caiaphas, Pontius Pilate, Intendant of the province of lower Galilee, sitting in judgment in the presidential chair of the praetor, sentenced Jesus of Nazareth to death on a cross, between two robbers, as the numerous testimonies of the people prove that—first, Jesus is a misleader; second, he has excited the people of sedition; third, he is an enemy to the laws; fourth, he calls himself falsely the king of Israel; fifth, he went to the temple followed by a multitude carrying palms in their hands."

It likewise orders the first centurion, Quirillus Cornelius to bring him to the place of execution, and forbid all persons, rich or poor, to prevent the execution of Jesus. The witnesses who have signed the execution against Jesus are: First, Daniel Robani, a pharisee; second, John Zorobabel; third, Raphael Robani; fourth, Capet. Finally, it orders that the said Jesus be taken out of Jerusalem through the gate of Tournes.
